Business

Nate’s practice focuses on a broad range of business and real estate transactional matters.

Nate counsels clients on general business transactions, including sales of businesses through stock sales and asset sales, other strategic business relationships. He has broad experience negotiating important employment, vendor, and service contracts with customers and strategic partners. Nate approaches every representation with the goal of being a long-term trusted advisor to his clients. Clients appreciate his accessible, practical approach. Nate also helps his clients buy, sell, exchange, finance, operate, and lease real estate, having completed hundreds of millions of dollars of sale and leasing transactions over the past decade. He helps landlord clients operate properties across a wide variety of asset classes—shopping centers, office, industrial, and mixed use.
